“Now, blessings light on him that first invented sleep! It covers a man all over, thoughts and all, like a cloak; it is meat for the hungry, drink for the thirsty, heat for the cold and cold for the hot. It is the current coin that purchases all the pleasures of the world cheap, and the balance that sets the king and the shepherd, the fool and the wise man even.”

Miguel de Cervantes

WEEKEND TECHNICAL STUDY COMPONENT

These lectures and discussions are geared towards experienced as well as beginning PSG technologists, allied health specialists such as nursing and respiratory care, as well as physicians with an interest in sleep who wish to develop a better understanding of the technical aspects of sleep medicine. The setting will be in smaller classrooms, allowing for more discussion and interchange between the presenters and the audience. Informal discussions, one on one explanations on topics and idea exchanges will be held.

If you feel you would like more instruction on the PSG, are preparing to sit for one of the exams or just feel like it is time to brush up on your skills, this will be a great format to do so. Even the more experienced technologists, nurses and respiratory care practitioners who feel they have developed a strong understanding and skill set in PSG will find lots of very useful information and techniques with these presentations.
